Municipality gets $279,700 break on outstanding sewage plant debt

Financial assistance totaling $279,700 has been granted to the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden by the provincial government for the reduction of debts associated with the municipal sewage plant, John Eakins, M.P.P. for Victoria - Haliburton, announced at a hastily arranged meeting last Friday. The grant includes a debt of $49,700.00 written off last November by the Ministry of the Environment. The Ministry had assisted the municipality in the construction of the sewage plant.

Mr. Eakins' announcement comes soon after a Council decision - made last February on the advice of lawyers hired to find ways of reducing the sewage plant debt - to withhold payments on money owed for the plant to the Ministry of the Environment. At the February council meeting, it was resolved that the cost of the plant was excessive and that the municipality had been unfairly burdened with it.

Asked if the Provincial Government grant leaves the municipality with an acceptable debt, Deputy Reeve Bern Berry said Council would have to consider the issue and offered no further comment.

The plant was built in 1977 at the urging of the Environment Ministry, which agreed to supervise construction and to arrange a government loan for the municipality so it could afford to buy the plant. The municipality accepted this agreement on the strength of construction estimates provided by the Ministry amounting to less than $2,000,000.

Many people agree, however, that a large part of the problem today is a result of the Ministry's failure to inform the Municipality of actual construction costs of over $4,000,000. The Ministry still has not come forward with a satisfactory explanation of the cost overrun, or of its failure to inform the Municipality.

"The reasons for the cost over-runs are obscure," according to research done on the sewage plant debt by the law firm Campbell, Godfrey, and Lewtas. The firm also notes that there have been difficulties in obtaining information from the Provincial Government explaining why the project cost more than double the original estimate.

It was not until 1983, says former Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, that Council discovered the actual cost of the plant. Construction of the sewage works was completed in 1977.

Council first tried to ascertain the extent of the debt when the Ministry began a series of drastic increases in the rate it charged the Municipality for the sewage works. Initially, in 1977, Council agreed to a rate of $1.04 per 1,000 gallons of effluent - not enough, it has since been discovered, to cover even the operating costs of the plant - but by the end of 1983 the rate had more than tripled to $3.58 per thousand gallons. Still no acceptable explanation was offered for the increases.

To find out more about the sewage plant debt, Council hired the consulting firm of Woods Gordon to carry out a study of the plant. It was only then, says Mr. Pergolas, 6 years after the plant had been completed, that Council learned the plant cost $4,200,000, more than twice the original estimate.

It was also revealed in the study that the Ministry's rate increases were part of a deficit financing scheme to pay for the plant. When the scheme was first put into place, it was believed that the population of the municipality would be double by 1990 what it was in 1977, and that the increased population would be able to absorb the sewage rate increases. But the population has not increased appreciably and this is reflected in a tripling of individual sewage bills in the Municipality.

As yet, Council has not decided whether to resume payments on the Municipality debt to the Environment Ministry.

Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins and members of the Anson Hindon and Minden council flash $279,000 grins after the provincial representative announced the municipality's sewer system debt would be reduced by that amount. The announcement was made at a hastily called meeting of the council Friday morning. Eakins chided the council for hiring a lawyer to represent their interests at Queen's Park. He told the council they should have approached him with their concerns.

Policy would close 12 lakes to ice fishing

The Ministry of Natural Resources will propose legislation to close 12 lakes in the Algonquin region to winter fishing in an effort to protect the indigenous lake trout population. The plan to close the lakes, eight of which are located in Haliburton County, was announced in a press release issued by the ministry last week.

The decision to close the lakes to ice fishing came after five meetings were held to determine the response of the public to the closings. According to the ministry, the public generally appeared to favour the move over other possible methods of controlling the number of fish being caught.

While the ministry may have felt the over-all response to the closures was positive, a number of anglers at the meeting in Haliburton village expressed concern that by closing the winter fishing on a number of lakes, the ministry would increase fishing pressure on others in the immediate vicinity.

The MNR has stated however, that hatchery lake trout destined for the lakes which have been closed, will now be diverted to adjacent bodies of water to help meet the expected increase fishing pressure.

The lakes that have been closed, according to the Charges pending in MTC fatality

The Ministry of Labour has deliberately delayed laying charges over the death of Alan Brown, an employee of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications who drowned while clearing a storm culvert in Haliburton County eight months ago. New Democratic Party leader Bob Rae said in the Ontario Legislature last week. Labour Minister William Wrye's explanation for the delay - that officials to be charged had to be properly identified - "is complete and utter rubbish," Mr. Rae argued. Mr. Wrye announced last Wednesday that the Ministry of Labour is now ready to lay charges over the case.

An inquest last fall into the death of Mr. Brown revealed, according to an article in the Globe and Mail, that proper safety measures had not been taken by his employers, the Ministry of Transportation and Communications. Mr. Brown should have had a life jacket, the inquest concluded.

Another investigation, by the Ministry of Labour, found that Mr. Brown's employers violated sections of the Occupational Health and Safety Act in the incident.

Some time ago the Ministry of Labour and the Attorney-General's office both advised that charges should be laid. Mr. Wrye admitted in the Legislature that the delay should not have occurred. "I frankly don't think we've been timely enough ... I'm going to be more diligent in making sure we are more timely."

Ontario Hydro begins expansion

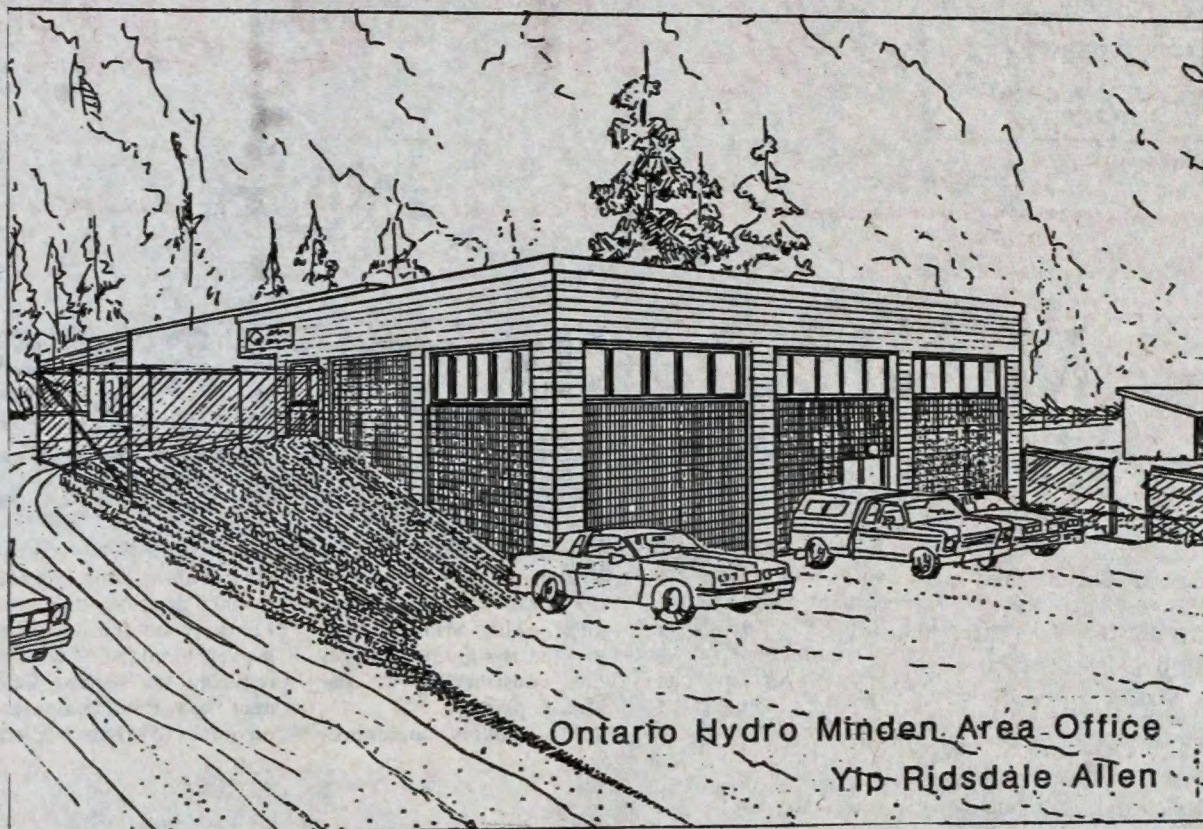

A half million dollar expansion project at the Minden Ontario Hydro office got underway last week. The work will see the construction of a new 55 by 40 foot two storey building adjacent to the present warehouse.

According to Minden District manager Cal Wilson, the expansion was necessary to relieve cramped facilities and to upgrade existing space.

The new building will provide office space for the forestry and line departments of the agency, a meeting room, and staff facilities. The storage space at the existing building will be expanded and a new loading dock and crane will be added to increase the efficiency of material handling.

The new building will be connected with the present warehouse and office complex on the second level, while additional facilities will be available on the second level. Access to the lower level will be directly from outside as the new structure is being built on the side of a hill.

Wilson pointed out that the $551,000 price tag includes both new construction and the renovations to the existing facility. Westmount Engineering Construction Company Limited of Peterborough is in charge of the project.

Dorset acid rain report

This report on acid rain at the Dorset testing station is provided by the Ministry of Environment and covers the period May 4 to 10.

There were two precipitation events recorded at the station. The first occurred May 5 when 4 mm of rain fell. It had a pH reading of 4.3. The rainfall originated in Kentucky and followed a path over Indiana and Southern Ontario.

The second event was recorded May 6 when 2 mm of rain fell. The pH reading was 4.3. The rainfall was traced from Missouri, passing over Illinois, Michigan and Southern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered serious.

Piscine protection

While the Ministry of Natural Resources plan to place a winter fishing ban on eight Haliburton County Lakes will cause some inconvenience for some fishermen, the aims of the policy should be heartily endorsed by all who are concerned about this county's fishing resource.

The ministry has identified a number of lakes in the district where natural lake trout populations reproduce in significant numbers. It is these indigenous lake trout populations, the new policy is attempting to protect.

For a number of years, the ministry has been augmenting fishing stocks in certain lakes by planting hatchery-raised fish in those bodies of water. While this activity may have satisfied the needs of anglers, in one way it created a false economy. Generally, hatchery fish do not reproduce in the wild, and so while they may provide sport for anglers, they do not replenish their numbers naturally.

Ministry experts have identified those lakes which still contain naturally reproducing lake trout populations and hope to protect these fish by eliminating winter fishing. We applaud their efforts and hope everyone will realize the value of a strong, naturally occurring lake trout population in area lakes and respect the ministry's protective measures.

Aid for small business

-by John Eakins, MPP-

I have written many times in this column that small business is vitally important to the economy of Ontario, particularly in Victoria - Haliburton. During the past few months a number of programs have been introduced to assist our small businesses.

Recently, my colleague, the Minister of Industry, Trade and Technology, the Honourable Hugh O'Neil, announced a new initiative to study the relationship between small business and government. A group of six MPP's have formed a committee with a mandate to develop a process for reviewing existing regulations and screening new legislation so that they are as responsive as possible to the realities of doing business.

The committee is comprised of Parliamentary Assistants to Ministries closely concerned with the needs and problems of Ontario's 270,000 entrepreneurs who own small businesses. The committee will be a source of advice to the government on new ideas to assist small business, as well as being a forum for evaluation of existing programs.

In addition, the Small Business Branch of MITT will serve as a secretariat to the group. This committee has identified a number of goals in assisting Ontario's small business. The Committee will provide a channel for listening to business owners and associations and help ensure that the Government's agenda is implemented in a manner sensitive to business.

The members of the committee will consider existing programs to ensure that they are effective, accessible and designed to provide maximum benefit.

In addition, the MPP's will identify new opportunities to further assist small business owners in such areas as financing, advice and taxation.

Rick Ferraro, the Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Industry, Trade and Technology will act as Chairman of the Committee and can be contacted by addressing correspondence to Mr. Ferraro at the Ministry of Industry, Trade and Technology, 8th Floor, Hearst Block, 900 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario, M7A 2E1.

Aid for Africans

-by Bill Scott, MP-

On May 6, 1986 External Relations Minister Hog, Monique Vezina announced Africa 2000, a comprehensive series of steps that the Canadian government will take to respond to the needs of the African countries over the next fifteen years.

Africa 2000 will have three main themes: partnership between the government and the private sector, reorientation of Canada's development assistance; and international consultation.

Under Africa 2000 a special fund of $150 million, disbursed over five years, will be established. Along with this new money, Canadian assistance to Africa will total more than $900 million for 1986-87 alone. The Government is determined to work with all the groups and organizations in Canadian society prepared to get involved in economic recovery in Africa. Half of this special fund, $75 million, will go to non-governmental organizations, to match contributions made by the public. Agriculture, reforestation and food security will receive first priority among the development projects launched by Canada.

Hardly a thing of beauty, an earthworm is basically a machine, designed to tunnel through the ground, eating almost everything in its path. If you can overcome that squeamish sentiment, conditioned by years of training - not an easy task, I'll grant you - you'll find a fascinating creature, vital to forests, wildlife and people.

The earthworm's build - a series of muscular segments that press forward as they thin - act like a hydraulic ram. Then, as the worm "bunches up", it not only pulls its body forward, but also presses open the burrow to the worm's thickest diameter. Tiny, hair-like bristles can be extended to act like anchors, then retracted to allow the body to slide along the mucous-lubricated path. And, to combine efficiency with practicality, the same mucous path then dries, like a cement holding the tunnel from collapsing.

A worm has no appendages to get hung up anywhere; not even eyes. Instead, each has a set of light-sensitive cells embedded in the skin at its front end, and a mouth located right at the tip.

If you look closely at a worm, you'll see the digestive tract, running its entire length, filled with earth, food and debris on their way through. The highly efficient digestive tract readily passes earth and even sand without damage, while digesting every bit of organic material within. This material, the worm converts into two products - marvellous fertilizer and delicious worm tissue.

By reproducing quickly, worms provide a staple supply of food to other animals. Worms are hermaphroditic; that is, each worm bears both male and female organs. When two come together, the male part of one fertilizes the female part of the other. The clitellum - the female part - is that strange, ring-like band which encircles each worm. It produces tough, drought-resistant cases, each containing 8 - 12 eggs, which will sit dormant until soils are moist and warm enough to permit hatching.

The importance of worms derives from their fantastic numbers. Up to 500,000 worms per acre constitute an unexcelled workforce, capable of ramming perhaps 20,000 km/acre, every year, of aerating tunnels in the soil. This aeration converts sterile hardpan into light, moisture-holding life-sustaining soil. All of our wood-lands, meadows and agricultural fields depend upon worms, both to recycle nutrients and to keep the soil rich and healthy.

Actually, Ontario boasts 19 different species of

Minden resident a hit in Leeds Alabama

When Jack and Catherine Calverly drive to Florida for the winter - for most of the year they live in the white cottage in Gelert with the Canadian flag on the front lawn - they usually take Interstate 75 from Detroit all the way. But this year, says Jack, they thought they'd take a side trip through Birmingham, Alabama.

He speaks with a Midland brogue thick enough to stun an ox. "Along the way, we came across Leeds. Now then, we comin' from Leeds, England, this sor' a set me back on my butt. I thought, eh, you know, this is great. What kind of a town is this? So we decided we'd go by this city and see what it were like. Well, we turned down this highway, and there 'n behold were this lovely little town, about as big as Minden."

It was a Sunday and there weren't many people about, but the couple did manage to speak to a policeman, who was delighted when Jack explained they were from Leeds in England. He suggested the mayor might like to meet them, and Jack promised to stop in on his way back to Minden in the spring.

While he was in Florida, Jack started thinking about what a coincidence it was that two towns so far apart could have the same name. "We got a little city in the States and our big city in England. And I thought, it would be nice if we could get the kids in these two places to correspond and be together." He contacted school authorities in England and he telephoned the mayor of Leeds, Alabama, and it soon became apparent that the idea had caught on on both sides of the Atlantic.

A week later, the Calverlys got a call from the mayor in Alabama. He asked Jack and Catherine to stop by on their way back to Minden, because, he said, the people of his town would like to make them honorary citizens. Not being one to turn down hospitality, Jack agreed to visit. And at eleven in the morning they pulled up in front of the Leeds town hall and they were amazed at the size of the celebrations waiting for them.

"Everyone was there to meet us: the police chief, the magistrate, the mayor, and the fire chief, and they made us so welcome, you'd of thought we were visiting royalty. They took us on a tour of the city in a police car, they showed us around the chamber of commerce - which was small, but nevertheless very nice - and they gave us a luncheon."

On top of that, the Calverlys were presented with a large brass key to the city, official certificates of honorary citizenship, and a pin from the police chief which they were asked to present to the police chief of Leeds, England, when they next went to visit.

Jack and Catherine were flattered and deeply honoured, but what specially struck them was the friendliness of the people from Alabama, the warmth of the people toward, "two perfectly ordinary Joes," just because the Calverlys came from a town with the same name.

The gifts from the citizens of Leeds, Alabama, are proudly displayed at the white cottage near Gelert with the Canadian flag on the front lawn. And last Saturday, Jack and Catherine went to England on a holiday which will include a visit to their home town. There, Jack will stop at the city hall to see how far the education authorities have come with his plan to set up an exchange of letters between the students of the two cities ("though maybe the kids'll just say, to hell with it"), and also to present the police chief with the pin from the police chief in Alabama.

What intrigues Jack - he keeps coming back to the idea - is that someone an ocean and part of a hemisphere away from the original city of Leeds could start a new city and give it the same name. "When I'm in Leeds, Alabama, I have this strange feeling of being snapped back to my old home town in England. I mean I'm at Leeds, but I'm 3,000 miles from Leeds." It gives one a sort of schizophrenic feeling, he remarks.

It also makes you wonder, if you do dream at all, who the person was who first decided to build a new town and to call it Leeds. Probably, says Jack, it was a man who came from England, "and 'e were likely from Leeds. But then you've got to think, what sort of a man was 'e, and what part of Leeds did 'e come from. Who was the guy who stood in that particular place, and said, I'm from Leeds? Did 'e shoot a bloody buffalo 'ere? And did 'e say, gee, this is a beautiful country, I'm going to call this place Leeds?" A good question.

It's now 28 years since Jack left Leeds for Canada, where, word had it, pastures were greener. "I was a railway engineer in England, and at that particular time they were phasing out steam locomotives. And I was a steam engineer. I love steam and I didn't like diesel locomotives."

So he and Catherine came to Toronto, where Jack promptly set out to make good. "Painting and decorating was our family business in England, so with my two brothers I opened a painting and decorating business in Canada. We were reasonably successful."

Here Jack gestures at his comfortable modern kitchen and plush living room. "I was able to retire early with a house here in Minden and one in Florida." And, as most of us are aware, the Calverlys are well known in the area.

People have grown fond of the couple since they settled here 16 years ago, and there's no dearth of Jack "Bloody Hell" Calverly anecdotes in Minden. In other words, Jack and

Beyond the fur trade

- by Gary Kenney -

The feds are upset. Quite ticked really. Their discussion paper, Defense of the Fur Trade, doesn't mince words.

First Verse

"Canada was founded by the fur trade."
"The beaver is our national symbol."
"Man is an element in the cycle of nature."
"We are proud to live in harmony with nature and are good husbanders of our natural resources."

Second Verse

"Trapping is a mechanism for maintaining nature's balance."
"There is considerable evidence that school children are being taught that killing wild animals is either cruel or otherwise morally wrong."
"There is a very real possibility that the next generation of adults will reject fur garments."

Chorus and Bottom Line

"The fur industry in Canada adds approximately $600 million annually to the Gross National Product."

The villains in the federal lament are Greenpeace, International Fund for Animal Welfare, Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and others who fight big government and big business on behalf of Bambi and her kin.

Relying on pure sentiment, and selective use of facts, they conspire to "move people up the scale of sympathy and commitment." Their campaign begins with petitions against cruel or inhumane methods of killing, and build toward "allegations the only way to stop the cruel aspect of the activity is to stop the activity." That is, stop killing wild animals.

The final do-gooder objective, according to the feds, is to stop the killing of all animals. Vegetarians unite!

Somewhere in between the fed fur hustler and the hippy-dippy animal rights picket sit most of us ... trendy cow hides laced onto our feet, ground burger in our bellies, and TV Guides at the ready.

The feds are right about that. TV will decide it. It's how we elect our governments, fight ring around the collar, muster to Ethiopia's aid, and safeguard Canadian cultural content.

I'm enjoying both sets of cartoons. Saturday mornings there's Bugs, and Roadrunner, and Thumper brainwashing the diaper set with cuddly, emotional sentiments sure to wreak havoc at Sid Silver's Fur Rentals for years to come.

Then at night there's slinky ladies purring and pawing their way up the social ladder from polyester to lynx, and guys with spray-on three day beards who know they've made it when their wife's closet sports more furred species than Toronto Zoo.

The feds have decided, "we must put our house in order." That means upgrading killing methods to scientifically humane standards (?), organizing a pro fur trade lobby group, and looking for allies where it's easiest, i.e. "If there are communities heavily dependent on the fur industry, so much the better."

It's a campaign I cannot help comparing to cigarette ads of twenty-five years ago. The ones with doctors and surgeons pumping the virtues of those sexy, calming, nicotine highs.

While the cartoon wars rage, I'll teach Matt to know the habits of wild animals, to stalk them at close range. It's a skill needed by hunters and photographers alike.

I'll show him children's animal books by Margaret Atwood, and later on Farley Mowatt's horrific masterpiece Sea of Slaughter, to counter the fluff from Disney and Ottawa alike.

It'll be his decision to pull a trigger or click a shutter. I made one at age ten. I made another this April.

County Council meets next week. An optimist can only hope the forestry committee will suggest their fellow councillors match the foresight of Peterborough area politicians.

South-east of us, an organic spraying program to combat a potentially devastating gypsy moth invasion has been coordinated for public forests and private lots as small as ten acres.

More on these plans next week.

The back cover of the Chamber of Commerce summer brochure has been sold to Knob Hill Farms. The message? ... "Seven locations to serve you on major routes leading into Ontario's cottage country." (emphasis mine).

Are we losing control of the message? More next week on Allcom Marketing Inc. (the Chamber's Toronto agent supplying the brochure).

Business briefs

For a second year, a retail outlet featuring locally made arts and crafts accepted on consignment will be open in Haliburton Village.

The Loft is operated by Maria VanLieshout and is located, as the name implies, in the loft of the Village Barn on Haliburton's Main Street.

Maria is very proud of the fact that local artists can use her outlet to sell their products and invites artists who have not contacted her in the past to do so soon to have their work included in her spacious display.

Currently on display are wooden toys, baskets and products from the Arc Workshop, quilts, weaving, batiks, knitting, Christmas decorations, pottery, aprons and much more. Last year The Loft handled consignments for 55 of the area's artists and craftspeople.

The shop will be open until Thanksgiving. It's located at the top of the stairs in The Village Barn.

New owners

The ESSO gas station and repair service at Halls Lake has a new owner. Mike Durkin has taken over at the location from Dale MacDonald.

Mike is a licensed mechanic who has been involved in car and truck repair and servicing for most of his life.

His interest in the Halls Lake area stretches back a number of years. Mike recalls fondly visiting with a Great Aunt, Marge Watson, who used to live near the gas station and who was a teacher at Halls Lake for 25 years. In visiting with her, Mike became familiar with the area and grew to like it. In the back of his mind, he planned to some day relocate here.

That opportunity recently arose when the Halls Lake ESSO service was offered for sale. Jumping at the chance, he moved his family, including his wife Becky and two children to a home several miles south, overlooking Halls Lake.

The business, of course, will continue to sell ESSO gas and products, along with offering general repairs, 24 hour towing, small engine repair and servicing of vehicles. The station will be open seven days a week from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. with longer hours planned for holiday weekends and the summer months.

Out of the sky

The grand opening of Minden Satellite Services takes place this weekend in Minden. The business has been in operation for over a month now, however, the owners wanted to save their opening splash for the holiday weekend.

Minden Satellite Services, as the name implies, provides equipment and installation of satellite dishes. In addition to the line of Norsat and Uniden satellite receiving equipment, the company will also be retailing a line of home appliances and entertainment products.

The store is located on St. Germaine Street, opposite the Brewers Retail. Their line of electronic products include Emerson microwaves, home stereo systems, portable stereo sets, clock radios and more. The microwave oven line includes a variety of sizes from units which fit snugly under a cabinet to the top of the line models.

The company has satellite receiving equipment for residential and commercial installations. Their installations are fully insured.

The store will also carry a variety of electronic accessories including splitter boxes, connectors, wires and more. If it's not in stock, they'll order it in for you.

The Minden Satellite Services retail outlet will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. with later hours on Friday evening. They have extended an invitation to everyone to drop by their new location this weekend.

All that jazz

Jazz aficionados will have an opportunity to get an earful of their favourite music this weekend as Barb Flinn at Glenroy Lodge presents the Black Fly Jazz Festival.

This one day musical event will bring together well known jazz musicians from the Toronto scene and beyond. Barb expects pianist Norm Amadio to be in attendance for the Sunday jam session. Also in the line-up are drummer Alex Lazaroff, saxophonist Don (DT) Thompson and bassist, and Glenroy Lodge partner, Bob Price.

There will be no admission charge for the afternoon or evening jam sessions. Barb has planned a casual musical event. The musicians will be entertaining from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday afternoon and again from 7 to 10 p.m. in the evening.

from the chamber

by Shawn Hagerman

One of the most important, yet often times overlooked areas of our Chamber's marketing strategy is our Chamber office and its staff. Their functions are twofold, the first is to actively promote the area outside the County's boundaries. This is done by attending shows, for instance, the Sportsmen's, Singles Ski shows and the Eaton's Centre. They also constantly mail brochures to those incoming inquiries. Finally, the manager engages in personal promotional efforts, such as when Emily Skinner met with the Ride for Sight people and encouraged them to come here.

The second involves boosting the county once the visitors reach our office. Lorna Hicks' cheery welcome and thorough knowledge of the county along with Shirley Rapson's warm and helpful attitude have won over many a wavering traveller.

It was once said of Henry Ford, that they could take away all his assets but leave him his team of key people and he could rebuild everything that he had in ten years. I believe it's the same for our Chamber.

Last January I was in the Chamber office. It was in the middle of the week, around 2 p.m. in the afternoon, yet Lorna had logged 52 telephone calls on her in-watts line for tourist information, and the office had 15 visitors through the doors up to that point in time. It shows to me the system is working. For the next three years let's build on our strengths and see the county grow.

Calverlys become Leeds' ambassadors

Catherine did well to come to Canada when they did.

When they stepped off the boat - or, more likely, the plane, there probably weren't any 'bloody buffalo' roaming about to speak of, and chances are most of the towns and cities that are going to be with us in this country for the next 50 years or so had already been founded by the time the Calverlys got here. So Jack never had the opportunity to do some of the things the man from Leeds who went to Alabama did a century or so earlier.

Perhaps that is why he is so curious to know more about the fellow. "What were 'e like, and 'ou were 'e?" Another question well worth asking is, would Minden be called Minden if Jack had managed to get here sooner?

THE REMARKABLE HEAT PUMP

Air conditioning that saves you money.

What does central air conditioning have to do with lower heating bills? A lot...if your central air conditioner is a heat pump.

That's right! A heat pump is central air conditioner and dehumidifier as well as a heating system. And not any heating system. Added to a standard-efficiency gas or oil furnace, the heat pump's super efficiency will lower your heating bills.

So if you're thinking about central air this summer, why not check out central air that cuts your heating bills, too?

Co-ordinators will attend meeting

Jean Holloban, Home Help Convenor for Haliburton, Kinmount, Minden and areas; Adele Barnes, Director for Wilberforce and Meals on Wheels Convenor for Wilberforce/Tory Hill/Harcourt; Helen Henderson, 1st Vice President and Transportation Convenor for Haliburton and area; and Donna Bailey, Co-ordinator of Haliburton County Home Support Services will attend the Second Ontario Conference on Home Support Services for Elderly and Disabled Persons which will be held in Toronto May 21 to 23.

Mr. John Sweeney, Minister of Community and Social Services will give the opening address. Among the issues discussed will be co-ordination of services and future trends in housing, health and community action. Agency personnel from all over Ontario will provide information sharing sessions on unique and innovative programs being offered.

Several hundred small agencies in Ontario provide home care to the elderly in their communities. The work of these agencies not only enhances the quality of life for older and disabled persons but also dramatically reduces the cost of institutional care.

For further information contact Donna Bailey, Co-ordinator, Haliburton County Home Support Services at 457-2941.

Responsible for the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA), the Minister expressed her hope that 2000 small projects will be initiated in Africa next year. This new approach will also see African women participating in the planning and benefits of development projects.

As well a consultative group, made up of experts from all sectors and regions of Canada will be established to advise the Government on the entirety of African issues. Mme Vezina will represent Canada at a special session of the United Nations on the African situation scheduled for May 27 - 31.

worms, from the mighty 30 cm nightcrawler, to a reddish chestnut worm which rarely achieves 5 cm. The sickly whitish and greenish worms which you see in your garden are not merely the result of a revolting meal, but are different species.

Predictably, different worms are suited to the remarkable array of habitats which Ontario offers. Several abound in meadows, lawns and gardens, each occupying a slightly different specific habitat. The giant "dew worms" for example, spend most of their time at the surface, pulling leaves and other plant material into their burrows, while others feed down among the root net.

Others species dwell only in organic-rich locations like rotting manure piles, under logs or at the top of steep hills, where thick layers of leaves accumulate. Some tolerate the acidic locations beneath spruce and other conifers, while others can tolerate the saturated soils at marsh and stream edges. Together, they're all important in providing food, and recycling nutrients upon which future generations of wildlife - and people - will ultimately depend.

HHSS athletes capture track title

For the fourteenth year in a row, athletes from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School have captured the Kawartha West track and field meet. The event was held last Thursday at I.E. Weldon Secondary School in Lindsay.

Led by an outstanding performance from John Vanderhorst, Ted Paish and Alex Little, the team captured top spot with 980 points. Close on their heels this year was a strong showing from Fenelon Falls Secondary School with 967 points. In third spot was I.E. Weldon with 560 points while Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational School managed 239 points. Pope John Paul School scored 28 points.

The team members now advance to the Kawartha Finals scheduled for May 15 at Trent University in Peterborough.

The following are the results for HHSS participants in last Thursday's meet (records are in bold face):

Authorities are ignoring possible acid rain solution meeting told

by Michael Shirley

Proven techniques are available to save area lakes from further destructive effects of acid rain, but political will is needed to put those methods into operation, members of the Haliburton District Real Estate Board were told at a meeting at the Bonnie View Inn Thursday.

In her address to the membership, Sonya Holliday-Rhodes, President of the Haliburton County Anti-Pollution Committee, said studies carried out by the Ministry of the Environment "show 1.7% of lakes in the region are totally acidified, a further 34.6% are extremely acidified and 43% are moderately sensitive to acid precipitation and are slowly but surely approaching total acidification.

By leaching metals from the soil and rock formations of the area, acid rain contributes to the depletion of fish stocks and skeletal deformities in fish, she commented. While studies are not complete, there is also evidence that acid rain, by increasing the level of metals in drinking water, contributes to neurological and learning disabilities in humans, she commented.

While industry and government must ultimately bring air borne pollutants under control, efforts must be made to save area lakes until such time as those controls are put into effect. The local anti-pollution committee has been recommending the winter liming of area lakes for the past ten years, Holliday-Rhodes said, and has received diverse support.

In 1983 the local Chamber of Commerce endorsed the program, and that same year the Ontario Chamber of Commerce also threw their support behind the program. Prior to the last provincial election, the Progressive Conservatives indicated they were in favour of the program, but to date no action has been taken by the provincial government she said.

Michael Collins of Gooderham, a member of the anti-pollution committee who holds a Masters degree in Chemistry, elaborated on the program being proposed by the committee. Biodegradable paper bags containing pulverised limestone are placed on the ice around the shoreline of a lake during the winter. With the spring melt the limestone is deposited in shallow water and the wave action of the lake enables the lime to react with the acid in the water he said.

Collins stressed the importance of depositing the bags of limestone around the shoreline during the winter rather than dumping powdered limestone into the centre of the lake during the summer months. While the summer liming program may have an immediate effect, the limestone sinks beneath the debris on the lake bottom and is no longer effective, he noted.

He pointed out Sweden has been carrying out liming operations for the past 20 years and has proved the value of the winter liming operations. In spite of the continual air born pollution carried north across the country from Germany, the programs have been responsible for the recovery of 2 million hectares of water surface, Collins said.

Limestone is in plentiful supply in the Kinmount area, he pointed out, and predicted that if a liming program was initiated from 10,000 - 15,000 workers could be employed.

To undertake the program, Collins suggested the offer for assistance from

MNR release. "...will henceforth be managed for self-producing, wild lake trout populations." It was the fact that the lakes were numbered among the few to have naturally reproducing stock that the winter fishing ban was imposed. Despite the heavier recreational use of the lakes in the summer, MNR officials feel winter fishing places a greater stress on the fish population than does the summer fishing populations. Summer fishing will not be affected by the new regulations.

If the regulations are approved, as of January 1, 1987, the following Halibur-ton County Lakes will be closed to winter fishing, (the township in which the lake is located is indicated in brackets): Kimball (Livingston), Slipper and Stocking (Havelock), Drag (Dysart), Allan Farquhar and Fishtail (Harcourt), Red Pine (Sherborne). Lakes outside the county included in the new regulations are McCann and Oliphant in Proudfoot, Solitaire in Sinclair, and Jeffrey in Faraday.

The ministry is giving the public one last opportunity to comment on the proposed policy. Submissions should be made to the Regional Biologist, Ministry of Natural Resources, Box 9000, Huntsville.

Solution is available

Trent University be accepted to carry out a study of a test lake to determine acidity, water flow and fish population. While the cost to conduct the program on one lake might approach $25,000, the average cost per lake could be reduced to approximately $4,000, Collins said.

Ironically, he said, it is not high acidity that kills fish populations. In fact, he noted, fish can live in highly acidic water. It is the leaching action of acid precipitation that removes metals such as aluminum from the soil and deposits them in lakes that causes such serious damage. Acid rain also leaches nitrates and phosphates, the two main ingredients in fertilizers, into lake systems resulting in an overabundance of aquatic plants that can harm fish species. "A lake is part of an ecological chain," he said. "It includes flora and fauna and the end of that chain is man."

In discussions with politicians Collins said the program has been dismissed as a "band-aid solution" but he noted no one has ever denied the effectiveness of the solution. "The problem appears to be that it will not generate enough votes," he commented.

He suggested that the provincial government may be unwilling to carry out a test program, realizing that if the results are positive they would be obligated to expand the program. The problems posed by acid rain are enormous, he said, noting, "We can't solve the whole problem but at least by carrying out our proposal we can keep our lakes alive until the overall problem is solved."

The Swedish government must continuously add lime to their lakes to combat acid rain which originates in Germany. "We may have to do the same thing if the government doesn't do something about the problem of acid rain," he concluded.

In response to a request from the two committee members, the executive of the real estate board indicated their support for the winter liming proposal.

Museum committee feels reaction is encouraging

Deputy Reeve Bern Berry said the reaction was positive at an open meeting in the Municipal Council Chambers last Wednesday in which the Minden County Town Museum Committee asked the public to support its plan to erect a Heritage

Park in Minden. If Council agrees with Mr. Berry - he came to the meeting as an observer - it will apply to the federal Government for a grant to cover half the cost of the Park.

According to the plan, committee members explained, two mill stones and two log buildings donated to the Minden Museum, will be moved from present locations in Haliburton County to a site adjacent to the Museum. The estimated cost of the project - which will include restoring the buildings - is $41,000. Half this cost, the Committee hopes, will be covered by a grant from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation, which must be applied for through the municipality. The rest of the money, said Stan Hill, a member of the committee, and one of the principal speakers at the meeting, will come from local organizations - the Rotary Club has been approached - and from the municipality. The estimated price of the scheme is low, said Mr. Hill, because the committee believes that some of the work can be done with volunteer labour.

The committee proposed that eventually other historic buildings could be moved to the park so that it could be made to resemble a pioneer settlement, including a bank, a barn, a church, a school, and a number of log houses. The park could then be used as a place to store and exhibit the Museum's growing collection of historical artifacts. Mr. Hill said. He also assured the meeting that a pioneer settlement would be a welcome tourist attraction for the community. He was confident that the cost of the project would not be a serious problem. "We can have the whole thing paid (more on page 15)

Stan Hill makes his case at the Minden County Town Museum Committee's public meeting. John Hulbig, chairman of the committee, listens to the presentation

Committee hopes to develop park

for this year, with no burden on the Municipality. It's amazing what's available if you just take the time to look."

About twelve people other than members of the committee came to the meeting. Laura Kirkwood, a member of the committee, said she interpreted the low attendance as a "lack of public opposition to the Park."

Despite the small crowd however, discussion was spirited, with most people strongly in favour of the plan. Bill Payne said he thought a Heritage Park would boost Minden's economy. "If we want money in town, we have to trap it." At the moment, Mr. Payne said, we have nothing to lure tourists. A pioneer settlement attraction, he argued, is what is needed. "When my wife and I go travelling, we head straight for the old houses," because people want to see history. "If you get your little park and maybe a little petting zoo, well then you have a draw."

Mr. Webert, another member of the audience, had simpler concerns. He said he wanted a park because it, "would be nice to see something else growing on that property besides weeds."

And heated words were exchanged when Bruce Nesbitt attacked the committee's scheme as what he described as a waste of money. "What we need in this county is roads, not a Heritage Park. I've got a petition," Mr. Nesbitt shouted, "with names, plenty of names of people who are against it." Mr. Nesbitt apparently believed the committee planned to include the Bethel church in the Park. Mr. Hill assured the meeting his committee has no such intentions.

Mr. Angus, from the Horseshoe Lake Cottage Owners' Association, also voiced doubts about the scheme. "Haven't they already got a Heritage Park in Haliburton?" He suggested that the proposed park might be part of a rivalry between the communities of Minden and Haliburton.

Pat Murphy, a Minden contractor, did not see Mr. Angus's point as a problem. "I happen to think that one large museum is not better than a lot of smaller ones. A Heritage Park would be a really good thing for this community - it's what Minden needs."

Irene Moore, a long-time resident of the area, thought the same. "Frankly, I've taken buses to lots of museums, and even if they're only ten or fifteen miles apart, they're still interesting."

Speaking forcefully for the park, Laura Kirkwood, a member of the committee, described what she saw as a lack of attractions in Minden. "My husband and I used to have a tourist business. The two questions people asked most frequently were, 'Where's a good place to eat?' and, 'What's there to see around here.'"

What do we in Minden say?"

When the meeting ended, most committee members said they were satisfied they have public support for their scheme. The opposition of Bruce Nesbitt, they believe, is not a significant problem.

DRUNK DRIVING KILLS!

Will alcohol claim you as yet another victim of escalating statistics? Each year, the scene is the same. Friends gather together, and will have a drink or two...or three. Then it's time to go home. Whether around the block* or long distance, the effect of even one drink makes you a threat to yourself and others!

Reflexes become sluggish and judgement is impaired. In short, you become a potential killer as soon as you get behind that wheel. This summer, if you drink, use your head. Don't drive. If a friend has had one too many, encourage him to find another way home. Don't let your celebrating lead you down a dead end street..... permanently!

Kickers open with 0-0 tie

The soccer season was off to a respectable start this year with a game in Hali-burton between our own Dixie Lees and the Graven-hurst Spartans. The score was still 0-0 at the end of the second half, a draw, says Dixie Lee Coach Jim Milne, because everyone played well.

The first half of the game was scrubby and disorgan-ized, partly because the team's manager had to sub for the referee, who failed to show up. As players found their feet and flexed their muscles that likely have been dormant since last summer, the game improved in the second half.

The Dixie Lee goalie,

Andrew Shapiera, played exceptionally well. As one of the best goalies in the league, Shapiera is responsible to a large extent for the low score in the game.

Coach Milne says the Dixie Lees are still looking for players, especially for people over 35. The league is planning an Over 35 Tour-nament for July 12 and 13 in which a team made up of players from all over the league will come up against teams from Denmark and Scarborough.

The Dixie Lees are practising in Minden this Thursday at seven o'clock on the field behind Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

$600 doantions helps campaign

The Minden Easter Seal campaign, co-ordinated by the community's Rotary Club, is $600 richer thanks to two donations received Monday evening.

George Simmons, repre-senting the Dougall's Devils of Coboconk, and Pat Russell of the Coby Island-ers each presented Easter Seals chairman Gerry Rome with cheques for $300. The donations were a result of funds raised during two hockey tournaments this past season.

The Dougall's Devils were co-ordinators of the Old Timers Tournament played at the Minden arena at the first of March, while the Coby Islanders helped organize the annual Coboconk Tournament, at the end of the hockey season.

Easter Seals Chairman Gerry Rome said the donation provides a major boost for this year's campaign, which is entering its final weeks. The $600 addition, puts the total collected this year at over $2200, a little more than what was received last year. He expressed the Rotary Club's appreciation to the two tournament organizers for their generous donation to the fund.

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

Advertising space in the Bluegrass brochure is still available. Small spaces are available for short messages and business or private names. There are still larger spaces (business card size) for messages plus business ads. If you have not bought your space, please call Branch 129 manager, Jim Tice, at 457-2571 and book it now. The initial printing of this brochure will be 7500 copies.

Did you notice that the Valu-mart flyer is carrying Legion Bluegrass advertising? Isn't that great!!! Thanks to the Easton family for this tremendous support. Thanks also to the Haliburton Highlands Museum Board for including the Bluegrass Festival in their brochures. It is wonderful to know so many people and groups are behind this venture.

On Saturday, May 10, your Branch hosted a bus load of visitors from the Bobcaygeon Branch. While with us they were given a brief history of Legion in Haliburton and a tour of the facilities. These interbranch visits help to foster comradeship among Legionnaires and maybe soon we can reciprocate and visit the Bobcaygeon Branch. During their stay, our visitors were treated to a lunch prepared by our L.A. Thanks, ladies. As usual, an excellent job.

Entertainment in the Club Room on Saturday night was provided by Joey Nicholson. Joey's relaxed, easy style and delivery make him a favourite for all to enjoy.

Winner of the 50-50 draw on Saturday, May 3 was Joyce Taylor of Lindsay, who won $50.25. On May 10 the winner was Chris Bishop, receiving $40.50. Congratulations to these people.

The regular patrons of the Legion Bingo will miss the sound of Ted Isles. Off and on for 34 years, Ted has been faithfully calling Bingo numbers. Now, he feels it is time to hand this over to someone else. Irv Chambers and Doug Pritchard have agreed to assume these duties. Thanks fellows and thank you Ted for your many years of service to Legion. We will miss you at Bingo.

Time for senior games approaching

by Bruce Armstrong

The Haliburton County Senior Games are fast approaching and the pressure is building at the Drop-in Centre. Expediency has dictated advancing the official opening ceremonies of the games to the dinner meeting of the Home Support Services at Wilberforce on Friday, May 16. The closing ceremonies, however, will remain scheduled for Friday, June 13 at Rotary Park at 12 noon; all participants will receive an invitation to the free barbecue that precedes the awards presentation.

Please refer to the notice in the classified section of this paper for a list of the Games and try to get your registration forms in to the Centre before May 21.

Do you want to practice? Well just check the following:- Shuffleboard - starting May 13, each Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m. at Rotary Park. 5 - Pin Bowling - Wednesday, May 21 at 7:00 p.m. at Carnarvon - cost $3.50. Bridge, Euchre and Cribbage at the usual 1:15 p.m. times at the Centre. The other games - I'm afraid you are on your own.

The recorded history of Shuffleboard goes back to the 15th century England and the game has been variously known as shovegroat or slidegroat, shovepenny or shovelboard. The court size of 52 x 6 feet with a 9 foot diamond hasn't changed much but the playing surface varies from ship-board decks to inside and outside facilities. Our co-conveners, May and Don Sinclair of Ingoldsby are typical of many Snow-birds - they are good Shufflers!

Somerville computer grant approved

The Township of Somerville has received a provincial grant of $5,000, it was announced by John Eakins, Minister of Tourism and Recreation.

Speaking on behalf of Municipal Affairs Minister Bernard Grandmaitre, Mr. Eakins said the funds are for an automated financial information system.

"This streamlines the administration and improves the quality and availability of information," he added.

This grant was made under the former Municipal Action '85 program. The program provided support to municipal initiatives that develop management systems, administrative tools and staff skills.

Scholarship winner Robert Fleming stands beside some of the winning entries at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery.

Artistic achievement by students from Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden was honoured Thursday evening at the community's art gallery. The occasion was the opening of the annual children's art exhibit and the awarding of scholarships for summer courses at the Haliburton Highlands School of Fine Arts.

As in the past, members of Mr. Glen Carter's musical class entertained prior to the presentations. Thursday those in attendance enjoyed several numbers from a talented brass ensemble.

To cap the evening, school principal Mr. Mackay Brydon presented the scholarship certificates. Those receiving the awards this year included: Michael Dennison, kindergarten; Brian Willison Katie Ackerblade and Ben Ripley, grade one; Jody Reid, grade two; Michelle Gartshore, grade 3; Laurie Spooner, grade five; and Robert Fleming, grade eight.

The display of children's art continues at the gallery until May 24.

Tips on planting a lawn this spring

Early fall is the best time to start a new lawn.

But spring seeding - anytime after mid-April - can be successful if you take a few precautions, says turf researcher Nancy Pierce of the University of Guelph's horticultural science department.

First, prepare the site.

A loam soil with a 12 to 15 cm layer of good top soil is ideal.

About two or three weeks before sowing, remove any existing weeds and if the area is newly-graded, water it regularly to help the soil settle.

Roll and rake the area to give a firm, level seedbed with no large lumps.

Prior to your final raking, apply a starter fertilizer high in phosphorus (like a 0-20-0 fertilizer). Follow application rates provided on the package.

If you wish, take a soil sample and forward it to the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food's soil testing lab.

Agri-Food Labs, Unit 1, 503 Imperial Road, Guelph, Ont., N1H 6T9 will provide a complete analysis of your soil and suggest your soil's fertilizer needs.

Sample boxes and information sheets are available through your local ministry office.

Apply the fertilizer evenly and work it into the top five to eight cm of soil.

"One word of caution. Even application is important because too much fertilizer in one spot may injure the young seedlings."

The type of lawn seed you purchase is just as important as site preparation.

The best advice is to ensure that the seed you buy is either a blend (two or more varieties of the same species) or better still, a mixture (a combination of two or more grass species).

"Planting a lawn with just one variety of grass could prove disastrous during a serious disease infestation; a mixture on the other hand, provides some insurance against such an occurrence as it is unlikely that more than one species will be affected seriously," Pierce says.

In most of Ontario, commercial formulations containing Kentucky bluegrass and creeping red fescue seed will produce the highest quality lawns.

Lawns that are subjected to heavy shade should be seeded with a mixture containing a relatively high percentage of creeping red fescue.

For spring sowing, packaged lawn seed should contain about 10 per cent to 15 per cent perennial ryegrass to serve as a nursegrass.

A nursegrass germinates very quickly, producing a microclimate that encourages the establishment of the desirable grass species.

Or instead of a nursegrass, you could apply a mulch, such as straw, at a rate of two bales per 100 square metres.

Remove the mulch when the seedlings are about three cm high.

Whichever type of seed you purchase, be sure it is of good quality and from a reputable source.

"Cheaper lawn seed preparations are lower in overall quality than the more expensive ones, and often contain undesirable grass species," she says.

Now that you have prepared the site and purchased good seed, you are ready to begin seeding the area.

Follow the suggested seeding rates on the package; heavier seeding than the recommended level will produce weak plants that are slow to mature.

To ensure a uniform seed cover - whether you are seeding by hand or using a spreader - divide your seed into two equal parts.

Sow the second lot at right angles to the first.

Then, rake the soil lightly to barely cover the seed with soil.

Good seed-to-soil contact can be made by rolling the entire seedbed with a 100 kilogram roller (but make sure the soil is dry to prevent it from sticking to the roller).

The next critical step is irrigation.

Within 24 hours of rolling, the seedbed should be well watered using a fine mist.

Then, provide a light sprinkling to the upper layer of soil a number of times each day until the seedlings are well established - usually between two and three weeks.

Do not mow your new lawn until the grass is about eight cm high, cut it at a height of five cm using a lightweight mower with a sharp blade.

By rolling the lawn again after the first mowing, you can ensure good root-to-soil contact; even the sharpest blades can dislodge newly-established seedlings.

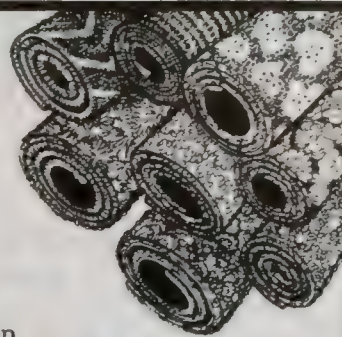

Continue to mow at this height throughout the summer (or you can raise the mowing height by half a centimetre during the hot summer months) and never let the grass grow to more than eight cm in height.

Student tour recycling plant

12 elementary school students in the Highlands have been awarded certificates of merit in the Ministry of the Environment's tenth annual environmental project competition. 300 students participated in the competition this year, writing essays and making posters with the theme of waste management.

The certificates were presented to the winners by Jean Poirier, the Parliamentary Assistant to the Ontario Minister of the Environment, during a tour given to the 12 winning students, of the Ministry's plant for Resources Recovery in Downsview. At the plant, students were able to watch as Toronto garbage was chopped, shredded, compacted, and burned. Mr. Poirier explained that "the health of the world around us in the future", will depend on how well the children of today learn how to protect the environment.

Certificate winners were Colin Sisson, Spencer Sisson, Matthew Williams, Derek Wilson, Teresa Madill and Jennifer Medley of J. Douglas Hodgson Elementary School in Haliburton; Aaron Hie, Jay Hughes, Ronnie Reid and Dustin Vanasse of Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden; and Nicole Howarth and Jodi Nixon of Cardiff Elementary School in Cardiff.

One of the contest winners, Ronald Reid of Archie Stouffer, wrote a short essay about his trip to the Resources Recovery Plant:

by Ronald Reid

I am writing to tell about my trip to the Resources Recovery Centre in Toronto, Ontario.

At the Resources Recovery Centre, we learned about garbage. In the plant, they recycle garbage. Toronto alone produces 70-90 tons a day.

One conveyor belt takes the garbage to the factory. Some garbage is put into dumptrucks and transports and shipped to another recycling centre. The garbage is put into different sections. The glass, cans, and the cardboard are put into separate piles. Then they are put into a machine in which it melts down the glass and the cans.

The cardboard is put into a pile so it can be compacted. Then it is cut into very small slices and shipped to Ottawa. They have a shredder which shreds up garbage.

If you put a couch or a freezer in it, it will come out to about 6 inches thick. The household garbage is burned but it does not cause pollution. It is kept in a machine for 3 days.

At the last stage of our trip we went into a musty

While touring the recycling plant near Toronto, students from J. Douglas Hodgson Elementary School in Haliburton, had an opportunity to view some of the posters submitted by fellow students. Examining the work are, from the left, student Jennifer Medley, MPP Jean Poirier, students Teresa Madill, Spencer Sisson, Mathew Williams, Derek Wilson, MOE Ontario region director George Mierzynski, and student Colin Sisson.

building and stayed there for a matter of seconds. In that building, garbage is mixed with water so it can go into the boiler and be burned.

I think people should be responsible for their own garbage. They should do their share to keep Ontario's environment clean.

I must say I enjoyed my trip and I would like to go there again.

I would like to give my appreciation to Mr. Moore, Mrs. Ryan and the bus driver for a wonderful time and paying for the donuts and the lunch.

Province will withdraw private park contracts

Contracting of Ontario provincial park operations to private operators will be phased out. Natural Resources Minister Vincent Kerrio announced recently.

"I have accepted a recommendation by the Provincial Parks Council to end the contracting out of whole provincial park operations," Mr. Kerrio said.

"That recommendation was made after a series of public meetings was held across the province. At those meetings the people of Ontario clearly indicated that the operation of provincial parks should be handled directly by my ministry."

Mr. Kerrio said service contracts for work such as garbage collection and grass mowing will continue, and guidelines will be developed to govern these contracts.

The contracting of individual concessions, such as food and outfitting, is already governed by specific procedures, and these contracts will continue.

Mr. Kerrio said that existing contracts for whole park operations will be allowed to run their full terms, but will not be renewed. The last contract ends in 1994.

The ministry began contracting out small, recreation-class provincial parks in 1976 as part of an effort to involve the private sector in delivering public services offered in parks. Four of the original 18 contracts expired in 1985, and operation of these parks will be resumed by MNR this year.

In 1985, the Provincial Parks Council was asked to examine people's views about parks services, including contracting out. The Council is a citizen's advisory committee which reports directly to the Minister on parks issues.

Public meetings were held late last year in Toronto, London, Kingston, Fort Frances, Thunder Bay and Sudbury.

Severe weather season begins

Ontario's 1986 severe weather season has started, bringing with it thunderstorms, hail and possibly tornadoes.

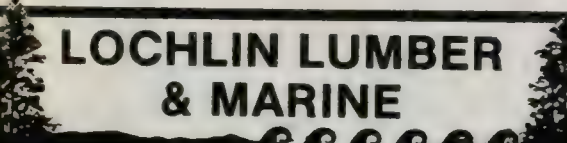

Environment Canada's weather service urges all Ontario residents to be alert for signs of severe weather throughout the season, which runs from April to October each year.

"The damage and destruction witnessed in Barrie last year is a tragic reminder that tornadoes can and do occur in Ontario," said Environment Minister Tom McMillan.

"Starting today, through October, a senior meteorologist at the Toronto forecast office will be dedicated to observing and forecasting conditions that could lead to severe weather and then issuing the appropriate watches and warnings," added Mr. McMillan.

He went on to stress, "Watches will be issued whenever there is a general threat over the next few hours. The watches will be upgraded to warnings when severe weather is imminent."

Environment Canada's weather service will be using all means at its disposal, from high technology radar to volunteer weather watchers, to give Ontario residents as much advance warning as possible of impending storms. These warnings are transmitted immediately on Weatheradio Canada and to radio and television stations throughout the province for instant dissemination to the public. Environment Canada encourages all citizens to be alert to changing weather conditions so that they can be prepared to take the necessary steps to protect themselves.

The Club 35 Card Party winners this week were as follows: Door prize - Clarence Bunker; Most lone hands - Eleanor Bunker; High lady - Marg Denham; High man - Harold Smith and others - Minnie Dawson, Ken Taylor and Greta Alsop.

Members of the Minden Women's Institute are to meet at the Post Office at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 21 and then go up to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Bunker for their meeting, with a spelling bee, a plant sale and a report of the District Annual.

The regular monthly meeting of the Minden Library Committee is cancelled for this month.

Last Tuesday, May 6, there was a good crowd at Minden Rotary Bingo. The "Winner Take All" was shared by several ladies. Mabel Trott and Jenny Anderson shared the Nevada Hat and Nevada tickets on their special night. With many of the games winners went up and took a "White Elephant" along with the cash. On the Door Prize, Dora McCracken modelled the T-Shirt with appropriate lettering. The Losers game was split five ways. We hear that there were several winners of one hundred dollars on the Nevadas. The last game of a full card with prize of $47 went to Ruth Alton. We haven't heard much about the next Bingo night, but this will be on May 27th, so mark that on your calendar. We are sure Garth will come up with something different.

Wanted to pass this hint along. I'm going to use it. For markers of rows or plants, cut strips of plastic from your empty containers and make them large enough to show, and of course use a magic marker to write on these.

The Thursday Card Group had their games at St Paul's last Wednesday as Thursday was Deanery. Winners were lone hands Jack Weekes, and others Willow Dixon, Melissa Hampson, Don Sinclair and Joyce Hewitt (man's). These games will be Thursday this week and this is the 15th, and then the Pot Luck Luncheon to finish off the season will be on May 22nd, and at noon hour. So all you players come for that day, especially.

The community sends good wishes to Jim D'Angelo at Civic Hospital, Peterborough and to Toots Miles at Toronto General.

There was a family party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bird last Saturday on the occasion of two birthdays and an anniversary. Visitors included the Brydsons of Bracebridge, Garnet Moore, Jeffrey, Eden and Jason of Bramalea, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brownridge of Scarborough.

Sunday guests with the Bob Hughes were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Titus, Carolann and Robbie of Severn Bridge and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cox and Meghan.

The community will surely miss a life long resident of our village in the person of Mrs. Fred Wright, whom many people knew as "Aunt May". She was a life member of the Minden Women's Institute and had been a member most of her life.

There was a Baptism Service last Sunday at Minden United Church with those baptised being Andrew James Carrell, Heather Mary Elizabeth McKelvey, Danielle Eva LeBlanc, Evan James Kernohan, Krysta Ellen Anderson, Richard James Marshall Minto, and Laura Dawn Sully. What a great way to celebrate Mother's Day and a very full church as well.

Dr. and Mrs. Neil Hewitt and family of Carleton Place enjoyed a weekend with his mother, Mrs. Ern Hewitt.

Muriel Ewing, Bridgette Turner, Sandra and Logan Moth all of Toronto were Sunday guests with the Milton Sears.

We visited the Agnes Jamieson Gallery and were really surprised at the fine exhibit of art work there from our Public School. This is still up until May 24 so drop in.

Don't forget the Minden Lions and Lioness Club Yard Sale, May 17, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. at Viceroy Homes, Highway 35 at bypass. Donations to the Yard Sale will gladly be accepted. Call 286-1559 for pick up.

Yvonne Guida flew to Denver, Colorado to attend the wedding of her youngest daughter, Deborah Ann to Paul Michael Eckhart of Denver. The wedding took place in the Unity Wedding Chapel on Saturday, May 10, at 1:30 p.m. The bride wore a lovely short, white brocade gown with gold accessories, and in lieu of a bridal veil wore her dark hair upswept in a bouffant. French knot entwined with flowers trimmed with pink ribbons. Her maid of honour, her best friend Judy, was dressed in an identical dress in pink and Paul the groom was handsome in a grey suit, with blue shirt and matching tie. The bride was given in marriage by her father Michael of Garden City, L.I. and the ring bearer for the double ring ceremony was Debbie's son Timmy. After the ceremony the guests retired to Paul's sister and brother-in-law's home for a reception held out of doors under an incredibly blue sky. The guests numbered about sixty, travelling from Minnesota, Florida, Missouri, California, Canada and other states to attend. It was a delicious repast and the house and garden was beautifully decorated in white. After a champagne toast and the cutting of a lovely three-tiered wedding cake, trimmed in iced pink roses, the happy pair took off followed by a train of well-wishers who had decorated Paul's car with the customary tin cans and trappings. The bride and groom will spend their honeymoon in Colorado Springs and tour some of the towns surrounded by their majestic mountains. Paul's youngest brother was busy on a climbing expedition on Mount McKinley, Alaska, the highest mountain in North America, and was unable to attend the wedding. Everyone wishes them a very happy life together.

This weekend has many things going on. Kintoria Day is on May 17 in the village of Wilberforce and the Motorcycle climb. For information call 448-2981. Spring Fling goes at Head Lake Park at Haliburton Village May 18th and the number here is 457-1254. Minden Kinsmen May Fest is at our Centre this Saturday and call 286-2302.

The home is small, but human hearts are there. And for today, at least, beneath your care, Someone is sad? Then speak a word of cheer, Someone is lonely? Make him welcome here. Someone has failed? Protect him from despair, Someone is poor? There's something you can spare. Your own heart's sorrow mention but in prayer. And carry sunshine with you everywhere.

Anon

Here's hoping you all had a pleasant weekend in our very great sunshine, and not too much sunburn. The black flies were around, but will soon be done. Keep smiling.

Student work available on farms

Students looking for summer work may be interested to know that the Agri-crew Program is operating this summer. Agricrew is for students between the ages of 15 and 24 who have farm experience. The program provides these people with a wider exposure to agriculture.

An Agricrew consists of 4 individuals who work together as a team. Each crew is supervised by a foreperson; the foreperson is also responsible for providing transportation for the crew to the job site, as well as for a small amount of paperwork.

Agricrew provides short term daily labour to farmers or agriculturally related businesses. Some of the jobs that the crew performs include painting, fencing, weeding and haying. The crew works 8 hour days, 5 days a week, and the employees are covered by Workers' Compensation.

The Program is funded by the Ministry of Skills Development and is administered locally by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. The coordinator for Victoria and Haliburton Counties works out of the Lindsay Agricultural Office; he is responsible for the administration of two Agricrews in this area.

There are still openings for positions on the crews. Any students interested in these positions should contact Blaine Kennedy, Youth Employment Co-ordinator, at the Lindsay Agricultural Office, at 324-6125 or Zenith 97920.

Rural life for urban youth

Farm help is in great demand this summer, and farmers can use the Junior Agriculturalist Program to lessen their workload. The program is designed to provide summer farm assistance, to provide farm experience to urban youth, and to bridge the rural-urban gap.

Junior Agriculturalists are urban students between the ages of 16 and 18. These individuals lack in farm experience, but they are enthusiastic and mature individuals who are interested in agriculture and are willing to learn more about it. These students are placed on farms across Ontario to live and work with the farm family.

Host farmers are still being accepted for the program. The farmer must exhibit a need for summer help, along with an interest in the welfare of the Junior Agriculturalist. Farmers must also be patient and willing to teach the student about various duties. As well, the farm family is responsible for a room, meals, and laundry for the youth.

The program is administered by the Ontario

Ministry of Agriculture and Food with funding from the Ministry of Skills Development. Junior Agriculturalists receive a $20 per day training allowance, of which farmers contribute $10. All employees are covered by Workers' Compensation.

Farmers interested in hosting a Junior Agriculturalist should contact Blaine Kennedy at the Lindsay Agricultural Office at 324-6125, or Zenith 97920.

HONDA LAWNMOWERS

WHY YOU SHOULD HAVE BOUGHT A HONDA.

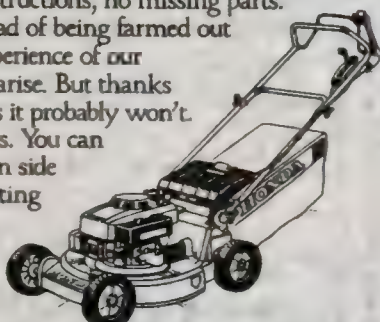

A bargain lawnmower is no bargain if it takes you hours to assemble and you've still got some parts left over. That's why every Honda lawnmower that we sell comes preassembled. Not in a box. No garbled instructions, no missing parts.

We service Honda lawnmowers too. So instead of being farmed out to a fix-it shop, your Honda gets the hands-on experience of our professionally-trained mechanics should the need arise. But thanks to Honda reliability and low maintenance features it probably won't.

Variety is another key to Honda lawnmowers. You can choose from push or self-propelled models. You can side bag or rear bag or not bag at all. You can have cutting widths from 17" to 21".

This summer, you can tear your hair out with another lawnmower. Or you can cut the grass with a Honda.

Hi Kids!!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Staanworth residents remain active

by Margaret Horsley

The residents of Staansworth Court Apartments have just had a very interesting and productive 1986 winter and spring season. However, it has been given away now to a summer of visiting relatives and friends, tending garden, and just having a 'really good holiday'.

To fill you in on some of the events occurring in the past season, we shall begin by telling you that we spent a very interesting evening with Bette and Bob Herlihey. By means of their slides, they explained their travels through Australia, New Zealand, and Hong Kong. Although the slides were very clear and almost self-explanatory, Bob explained them so well, we were not finished watching when the pictures ran out. So, Bob and Bette, we will be looking for you again. We thank you so much.

To mention some of the other activities, they could be as follows -

1. Musical entertainment was provided by Charles Brandon on the piano; Shirley and Murray Davis and Gordon Houghton on guitars and accordion; the Laver boys and Band; Shirley Colliss, Norma Burke and girls, and Santa. We thank each one very much. Please come again.

2. Birthdays and anniversaries were acknowledged with a cake and social time. Do hope they are continued.

3. Euchre and cribbage cards were held each Friday of the week. They will begin again in September.

4. Meals were prepared by the residents once a month and held in the lounge for all residents. Food was delicious.

5. Craftwork was and is done by the help of the New Horizons Program and is classed as - Hooking rugs and place mats; Weaving of place mats etc.; Three dimensional art; Quilting - A quilt has just been taken off the frames and is now ready to be displayed. We have tickets to sell on it. Two of the businesses in town have offered space for for $5.00 and under. It will appear in another edition before the date given.

Keep well, healthy and did you know that we are getting older when - we sit in a rocking chair and can't get it going; we sink our teeth in a steak and they stay there; and our backs go out more than we do.

Happy holidays.

display (Minden). You may see it soon there. We thank them.

So much for activities at Staansworth. You will be hearing from us soon. Then we may have some personal happenings of interest for you from our residents.

Oh yes! Come to our Bake Sale June 21. This will be baking and articles for sale

Well folks, after a very cold weekend we are back to Monday again. Fun and Fitness in the morning as usual and crafts in the afternoon. Linda showed us movies in the auditorium in the evening. The one was "Quimming Canada's Arctic Dog," the other two were "Mountain of Dreams" about Plateau mountain which lies south of Calgary, and all the little and big animals who live on this flat topped mountain, and a short story on our "Bird Neighbours" was the last, all very interesting.

Tuesday, Rev. George Elliott came and held a communion service in the chapel, we thank him very much for coming. At one o'clock Mr. McConnell brought his grade six class over and put on a play for us. It was made up by them too and were so well cast for their parts. They were supposed to be two families of Hillbillies and surely acted their parts well. In the evening Darryl Crowe came and entertained us with his songs, which were very nice.

It's very hot again! We are all very glad to have Angus Coulter back with us again.

The Full Gospel Light-house of Haliburton brought us our afternoon tea and their minister, Mr. Taylor, played the piano for us. We thank Mr. and Mrs. Taylor for bringing their children too, we enjoy seeing little folk.

Mrs. Mabel Buttery is a new resident, Mabel lived here quite a few years ago so she knows her way around the Home. Eldon and Mabel Deacon came in and called the Bingo which so many of us enjoy.

Friday saw quite a few visitors and several of the residents received flowers as this weekend was Mother's Day.

A lady came in with her little girl Lea and she wheeled Mrs. Stutt, Mrs. Davis and myself around the block in a wheelchair. This just made the day for us. It was so lovely to get outdoors and the weather was so fine, we thank her very much.

In the evening Bill Payne and his gang of musicians came and made things lively. They draw a big crowd to the lounge as everyone enjoys their music and also Bill's nonsense very much.

Saturday is usually a quiet long day but this Mother's Day weekend there were so many folks coming, visiting and bringing flowers that there didn't seem to be a dull moment, Sunday was the same.

We are fortunate in this Home to have so much company. People are comfortable coming in here I guess. We were very saddened yesterday morning to hear that Mrs. May Wright had passed away. She was one of our residents and had been away in hospital for some time. We offer our sincere sympathies to her two daughters.

I am off to hospital in Peterborough on Monday so I expect Pearl Lyle will be doing the column for awhile.

I didn't mention any visitors by name, as there were too many. Mrs. Isabella Wilson is away in hospital, we wish her a good recovery.

Bye for now. Edna.
